INDUSTRIAL ARMY.

Capture of Three Hundred Train Stealers Who are Held for Trial.

The Oakland and San Francisco Contingents Make Up Their Differences and Unite.

FORSYTH, Mont., April 16.—Although Col. Page and his United States regulars moved with great caution in capturing the Montana Coxey army, this morning, nearly 100 of the train stealers escaped to the woods. Those captured made no resistance whatever. The number of those taken by the detachment of the 22nd regiment was 331, including "Gen" Hogan, Engineer Harmon and Fireman Brady. The commonwealers were poorly armed only three revolvers being found. Three of the men were slightly wounded, their injuries having been received in the skirmish at Billings at noon yesterday. Seventy-five deputy U.S. marshals arrived here during the afternoon and the Hogan contingent of Coxey's army was turned over to them. The train in charge of the marshals, escorted by a detachment of the 22nd regiment, started for Helena this evening. The prisoners will be arraigned in the U.S. District court there without delay on the charge of theft of a train and disobedience of an injunction. The general belief is that only six or eight of the leaders will be held and the remainder will be hauled back to Butte and set at liberty.

OAKLAND, April 26.—The two industrial armies, one originating in San Francisco and the one here, which pulled apart yesterday have united to-day. They elected Dr. Smith as their Lieut. General and commander-in-chief. Provisions are running short and to-day about thirty solicitors with cards in their hats and gunny sacks in their hands went out to make a house to house canvass for food, meeting with some success.

PREHISTORIC RACES.

Mummies of a Race Older Than the Cliff Dwellers Discovered in Southeastern Utah.

SALT LAKE, Utah, April 25.—Charles A. Lang, an explorer from Pittsburg, and Robert Allen and J. P. Neilson, of San Juan county, Utah, have arrived in this city with seven well-preserved mummies, discovered by them beneath the ruins of cliff dwellers' houses in Southeastern Utah. This is the most important discovery of prehistoric remains ever made in that wild and inaccessible region. These mummies are in an extraordinary state of preservation, which is accounted for by the entire absence of moisture from the atmosphere and earth in that district. Among the collection is a male of giant stature, two females and two boys. They are not bodies of the cliff dwellers, but some race who lived before them, as they were found beneath the ruins of the cliff dwellers' habitations, and their hair is reddish instead of black, as with the cliff dwellers. Besides, the skulls are shaped like the Caucasian, instead of flattened at the back, like the skulls of the cliff dwellers. The bodies were covered with a very curious matting or blanket of wool and feathers, then packed around with cedar bark. With them were found evidences of the existence of hundreds of turkeys. So well preserved are the bodies that it could be told that one boy met a violent death. The moustache is still on the face of the giant, and the course of a vein may be traced in the arm of the woman. Local scientists are greatly interested, and all agree that they are the bodies of a race antedating the cliff dwellers.

VISIONS OF THE NIGHT.

Nocturnal Mirages Observed by Coastwise Steamship Officers Near the Delaware Capes.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Mirages in the night are unusual, even on the North Carolina and Virginia shores, where spectres of the aerial mists are most frequently observed by coastwise navigators. It was left to Capt. Fisher and Officers Smith and Phillips, of the steamship Kansas City, to recently run across the most remarkable nocturnal air visions ever recorded on the log of a coaster. The Kansas City left Savannah on Sunday. At twilight on Monday the officers on the bridge saw about 100 or more feet up in the foggy air, about eight miles from the North Carolina coast, a duplication of the low-lying shore with houses and trees here and there.

When darkness had set in the officers of the ship saw shoreward the phantom of the edge of the land, looking like a streak of painted scenery in the background of a show, surmounted and dotted with lights. The real scenery and lights were hidden behind the vapor below. Thereafter until morning the shore was invisible, but its reflection in the clouds was seen until almost down on Tuesday. It was away down twenty-five miles abeam of Carrick Light, about sixty-two miles south of Cape Charles that the skipper of the Kansas City saw on the horizon an unfamiliar beacon, gleaming like a terrestrial Mars, the reflection of the Cape Charles light projected on the clouds. A procession of cloud-mirrored lights danced by the steamship as she came up the coast. Nothing real in the way of lights or objects ashore was seen until the Kansas City was in the neighborhood of the Delaware capes.

How an Attempt to Cheat Justice in the Interest of a Bank Wrecker Was Foiled.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 25.—The trial of Frank and Percival Coffin and A. S. Reed, of the Indianapolis Cabinet Co., for aiding T. P. Haughey, president of the Indianapolis bank, in wrecking that institution, ended abruptly this afternoon when the judge announced that Juror Alvin Armstrong, of Lawrence county, had been guilty of conspiracy and corruption against the government by attempting to enter into a compact with the defendants to "hang" the jury for a consideration of $5,000. The juror was arrested as he sat in the box, the jury was discharged and the court adjourned until next Tuesday. Armstrong, who is a farmer, agreed with his neighbor, Frank O. Stannard, of Lawrence county, to "hang" the jury, and Stannard opened negotiations with Coffin's attorneys, asking $5,000 for Armstrong's work. A contract was drawn up. The attorneys then gave the whole thing away to the judge, turning over the contract. Stannard was a delegate in the Republican State convention. He is of the firm of Stannard Bros., extensive stock-raisers of Lawrence county, president of the Big Six Fair Association and secretary of the Bedford Fair and Trotting Association. He is also administrator of a big estate.

NOT A PRIVILEGED QUESTION.

Members of Congress Anxious to Ventilate Their Grievances Arising Out of Salary Deductions.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The first reply to the circular issued by Sergeant-at-Arms Snow in pursuance of the action of the Democratic caucus, announcing his purpose to enforce the law of 1856, requiring him to deduct from members' salaries for their absence, except for sickness, was heard in the House to-day. Mr. Mahon, of Pennsylvania, offered as a privileged question a resolution declaring it to be an infringement upon the dignity and privilege of members and wholly unauthorized by law. He argued that the law sought to be enforced by the sergeant-at-arms had really been repealed by an act fixing the present salary of members of Congress, which contains no provision for deduction for absence. An exciting discussion followed, at the end of which Speaker Crier ruled that the resolution did not present a question of privilege.

IN SIXTY-TWO HOURS.

Fast Trip Across the Continent Made by the Seligman Family.

SAN DIEGO, April 26.—At midnight last night, a special train bearing Theodore Seligman and Henry Seligman, sons of the late Jesse Seligman, the New York banker, who died at Coronado on Monday, arrived from Chicago, having made the run in 62 hours, a day and a half faster than the regular time. This afternoon at 4 o'clock the same train took the dead banker's sons and widow and daughter back to New York.

NICOLA VALLEY RAILWAY.

Construction Work to Be Begun Shortly—An Immense Coal Field to Be Made Accessible.

The Nicola Valley Railway Company expect in a short time to commence the construction of their road from the main line of the C. P. R. near Spence's Bridge to the valuable coal lands some forty miles distant, and thence to Nicola Lake, about six miles further on. The company some two years ago secured from fifteen to twenty square miles of coal lands, and subsequently obtained a charter for the railway. The coal is bituminous and is of the best quality, the coke produced from it being equal to the best from Cornwall, Pa., product. The quantity of coal obtainable is immense—equal, it is believed, to a daily output of a thousand tons for from 60 to 100 years. Analysis shows that 60 to 70 per cent. of it is pure carbon, with a very small percentage of ash. Iron ore assaying 80 per cent. of pure iron is obtainable within three or four miles. The company, which are composed of Vancouver and Victoria capitalists, expect to start work soon, and only await the report of a coal expert appointed by President Van Horne to make an investigation of the district. As already announced, the turning of the first sod took place on the 18th inst., on which occasion interesting and encouraging addresses were delivered by President Dr. Lefevre, Mayor Anderson of Vancouver and others, all of whom expressed great confidence in the success of both the railway and coal mining enterprises.

Important Egyptian Discoveries.

LONDON, April 26.—Prof. Gorgan, who has been excavating in Egypt for some time past, has made a fresh and important discovery. A few weeks ago the Professor discovered the remains of a supposed King of Egypt, and now it is announced his explorations at the foot of the brick pyramid of Dashour have led to the discovery of the fourth dynasty King, Morus Ratonab. In addition, the excavator found an ebony statue and some gold plates, etc. The explorations will be continued.

The Virginia Mine on Fire.

RENO, Nev., April 25.—A fire started in the Virginia this morning, near the Hale and Norcross mine, while the wind was blowing a gale. By prompt action the flames were extinguished with but little damage.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Sir John Thompson's Speech on the School Question a Remarkable Deliverance.

The Insolvent Act—"Joe" Martin Called Down—An Australian Minister En Route Home.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, April 26.—Sir John Thompson made a remarkable speech in the House of Commons this afternoon on the Northwest school question. He succinctly stated the reasons which had led the Government to assume the position they occupied on this question, and mentioned that the Roman Catholic minority in Manitoba had decided to appeal to England from the recent opinion on the same point.

The House did not sit to-night, leading members on both sides attending a state dinner.

A delegation of the boards of trade conferred with the Senate committee on the subject of insolvency. They had previously met and passed a resolution unanimously in favor of creditors being secured the right to say who shall be the liquidator or assignee of estates in all cases.

Joseph Martin was called down by Mr. Seriver, another Grit member, this morning, for insulting Mr. Gibbon, counsel for the Consumers Cordage Co.

Hon. Thomas Reid, ex-Minister of Defence, Victoria, will arrive here next week. He sails for home by the Warrimoo from Victoria on the 16th.

A stringent measure for the prevention of game destruction in the territories was introduced in the Senate to-day.

The Ontario Government have applied to purchase a large number of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence for park purposes.

INTERNATIONAL YACHTING.

Proposal That the Prince of Wales Should Bring out his Yacht the "Britannia."

In an editorial on the repeated triumphs of the Prince of Wales yacht Britannia the Montreal Witness says: The heir of the throne of the Sea Kings should now turn his face to the West and see if he cannot conquer the yachtsmen of the United States in their own waters under the rather trying conditions for strangers imposed by them, and win back the America cup, as the Queen's cup is now called. There would be a great deal of interest in any international boat race, but one in which the Prince of Wales was owner of the British yacht would prove the most exciting contest ever sailed.

A second visit of the Prince of Wales to America would be of great use to him, and Canada has a great deal scattered from Halifax to Victoria that she would take a pride in showing him. He would be interested in noting some changes which have taken place since he was here last, thirty-four years ago. Canada would also like to meet and greet the gentle and much-loved Princess of Wales. The future King and Queen of the British Empire might make their trip a celebration of the closer union of the British nations by going home by way of Australia. Lord Rosebery, who is an ardent imperial federationist, would no doubt enthusiastically advise a visit which would be calculated to do something to remind the British people of Great Britain that they are all subjects of one sovereign.

THE QUEEN'S CUP.

Tankerville Chamberlain, M. P., Offers Inducements to American Yachts to Cross the Atlantic.

Mr. Tankerville Chamberlain, member of Parliament from Southampton, and honorary lieutenant in the Naval reserve, has offered for competition in English waters the Queen's Cup won by the Arrow in 1851. It is understood that this offer is made especially with the view of inducing one or more American yachts to race in English waters.

It is further announced that the Prince of Wales has decided to race his cutter Britannia this season against all comers.

The Queen's Cup was one which the yacht America was not allowed to compete for in 1851, as the race was only open to boats belonging to the Royal yacht squadron. The current Arrow, winner of the cup, was owned by Tankerville Chamberlain, father of the present member of Parliament, and she was among the yachts afterwards beaten by the America in the race for the 100-guinea cup, offered by the Royal yacht squadron, which is now known as the America's Cup. When the America was sold to Lord De Blaquiere the Arrow defeated her in a race around the Isle of Wight on July 22, 1852, the American's English skipper not knowing how to handle her.

Mr. Chamberlain, by the way, offered the Queen's Cup for competition in 1886, after the sloop Mayflower had beaten the Genesta out of sight in the cup races here. Capt. Arthur Clark was engaged by the owners of the Mayflower and every arrangement was made to send her across to race for the cup, when Mr. Chamberlain suddenly withdrew his offer. It was said at that time that Mr. Chamberlain's mother objected to his offering the cup for competition.

A Gold Dredger Which Proves Very Effective—The Convicts' Recent Attempt at Escape.

New Hospital at Vancouver—Successful Amateur Performance—Meeting Postponed.

(Special to the Colonist.)

VANCOUVER.

VANCOUVER, April 26.—A very handsome hospital is to be built for the Sisters of Charity of the House of Providence; Mr. Blanchet, who has built a number of hospitals for the same order, is the architect. The basement will be of stone and the superstructure frame. The lower floor will contain dining room, sitting room for Sisters of Charity, the receiving ward, furnace room and kitchen annex. The first floor will contain an operating room, surgical dressing room, dispensary, smoking room, two private wards for pay patients, and two large wards for public patients; on the second floor will be seven private wards, two public wards, and a chapel. The attic floor will contain the convalescent room, and the Sisters' bedrooms. The building will be fitted with all modern conveniences and will be 120x48 feet.

An old timer known as "Moustache Jim" died suddenly at the Hotel Europe yesterday, after a prolonged spree, which probably hastened his end. Deceased was a familiar figure on the streets of Vancouver and was thought to be one of the earliest settlers in the city. He had no relatives that can be traced.

The Westminster amateur opera company presented H.M.S. Pinafore at the Vancouver Opera House last night, a fair audience receiving enthusiastically the splendid production. The following musical gems are worthy of note, as effectively rendered by the ladies and gentlemen mentioned: "I'm Called Little Buttercup," Miss Ogle; Ralph Rackstraw's "Maiden Fair to See," H. Owen Mallins; "My Gallant Crew," Dr. A. De Wolf Smith; "Sorry Her Lot," Mrs. Fagan as "Josephine"; "When I was a Lad," Mr. Rounsell; "Miss Clute," Mr. W. Walsh and Mr. G. B. McClelland were also heartily enjoyed. Mr. F. Vicor Austin deserves credit, as the principal promoter of the performance, for bringing it to such a very successful issue.

A runaway lad from Calgary is being taken care of by the police; his parents have been communicated with. The lad, who is but nine years old, is very bright and willing, and the stern custodians of the law look forward with regret to the little waif being taken from them.

Last evening Mr. John Wylie, of Ladner's, was married to Miss Maggie Matson, of Cromarty.

Mr. William Hoffmeister died last night after ten days' illness. Deceased was formerly from Clifford; he was well known and respected in the city.

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, April 26.—Additional information has been received which goes to show that the attempt of Kennedy and McCabe to escape from the penitentiary on Monday was only part of a well arranged plot to liberate the whole of one gang of convicts numbering about 40. When Kennedy dug up his rifle and handed it to McCabe he resumed digging hoping to find another rifle. There were no more, however, and with McCabe shot and himself covered by Guard Burr's revolver, Kennedy could do nothing but surrender. He afterwards admitted that he expected to find four stashed of arms instead of a single weapon placed there by his confederates on the outside. Had Kennedy not been disappointed in this matter or had the rifle in McCabe's hands not missed fire the plot must have been successful.

The cannerymen say that when the addition to D. J. Munn & Co.'s Sea Island cannery is completed it will be the largest in the Province. The Richmond cannery, J. H. Todd & Son proprietors, is undergoing repairs and receiving new machinery. The new cannery at Garry Point will be finished in ample time for the sockeye pack. Preparations for the packing season are being made at all the canneries on the river.

The court of revision on the assessment roll sits on Monday next. There are about 200 appeals. Very probably 150 are on the ground of over-assessment. The difficulty of establishing the cash value of real estate at present will make the proceedings of the court more than usually interesting. It is probable that if all the appeals are followed up the court will be sitting almost every day next week.

F. S. Roper, Provincial Inspector of contagious diseases in cattle, has returned from an official visit to the Chilliwack district. Mr. Roper reports having made a very careful inspection of the stock in Chilliwack and finding but one case of disease. This was a horse afflicted with glanders. The animal was killed and buried seven feet deep.

Mr. Aldridge, Aldergrove, had his house burned to the ground and almost everything lost on Tuesday morning, leaving himself, his wife and five children homeless. The fire started about 3:20 o'clock in the morning from some cause unknown.

The trial made at Yale this week by Bell & McClelland's gold dredger fully realized the highest expectations of the prospectors. Working in twelve feet of water gold gravel was pumped up from the bed of the river which yielded 19½ ounces of gold in a thirty-six hours' run. Stones weighing twenty-five and thirty pounds are brought up by the pump, and the whole machinery works perfectly. This trial ensures the success of operating gold dredgers on river bottoms in British Columbia.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, April 26.—Mr. S. M. Robins has announced his intention of commencing the work immediately of converting the swamp into first-class athletic grounds, suitable for all kinds of sports. Cinder tracks for foot and bicycle races will be laid down. The swamp will be enlarged and when the work is completed will be one of the finest athletic grounds in the Province.

Before Judge Harrison to-day case of Vipond vs. the Corporation of the City of Nanaimo came on for trial. Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C. and E. M. Yarwood appeared for the city; J. H. Simpson acting for the plaintiff. The whole day was occupied in the examination of Vipond. The case will likely last the remainder of the week. The plaintiff's claim is for $5,130, arising out of the contract for the opening up of the Newcastle townsite. The matter has been in dispute for the past three years.

FIREARMS IN THE LORDS.

Lord Stanley Advocates a Bill to Restrict Their Sale—A Dramatic Scene.

LONDON, April 26.—Last night the House of Lords was suddenly amazed by the spectacle of a noble peer standing with pistol levelled at the head of Lord Salisbury. The dramatic situation was the climax to a queer speech by Lord Stanley, who was advocating a bill to restrict the sale of firearms. No dealer was to sell a pistol except to a holder of a game license, and married women were to be barred from having a license under any conditions, husbands being outside the definition of fair game within the meaning of the bill. As Lord Stanley gravely explained this provision the house roared with laughter and there was not a dry eye on either the ministerial or opposition side. The beauty of the situation was that he was in sober earnest throughout. He produced two small boys as dreadful examples of the present laxity. One of the boys had recently shot the other seriously. Then Lord Stanley produced deadly weapons from various pockets. Finally a murmur of surprise caused Lord Salisbury to look up from a letter he was writing. He found himself confronting the barrel of a pistol. The leader of the opposition shrank back and exclaimed hurriedly to the speaker. "Keep the point downward." Lord Stanley obligingly lowered the weapon and handed it to the prime minister.

COXEY'S MOVEMENT.

It Furnishes a Theme for Many and Varied Editorials.

LONDON, April 26.—The Coxeys movement in the United States is attracting considerable attention both in this country and on the continent, and is furnishing a fruitful theme for editorial writers of the leading papers. The organs of the trades unions and labor organizations in general are publishing long reports of the movements of the different "armies," and are inclined at long range to regard the commonwealth movement as the beginning of the social emancipation of the toilers in the States. The fact that the movements of the armies have not been checked by the authorities is also the source of considerable surprise and comment. In this country such a demonstration would have been impossible both under the general laws and the various county regulations governing assemblages and demonstrations, and were a commonwealth to start out from any of the large English centres of population bound for London with the same object in view as these popularly ascribed to Coxeys, the chances are that the ringleaders would have been arrested for treason by the time their first halting place was reached.

NO RIGHT TO INTERFERE.

New Zealand Has No Right to Interfere in Samoa, Whose Affairs are in German Hands.

BERLIN, April 26.—The North German Gazette, in an inspired article regarding the annexation of Samoa to New Zealand, says the latter country has no right to interfere in the administration of Samoan affairs. The three treaty powers interested are perfectly competent, it says, to arrange matters with due regard to the interests of Samoa. The commercial interests of Samoa are almost exclusively in German hands, and no amount of agitation on the part of English colonies can alter that fact.

Coal for the Fleet.

FAIRHAVEN, April 26.—President Black, of the Board of Trade, has received a telegram from Senator Squire, confirming the report that all the vessels of the Behring Sea fleet have been ordered to take sufficient coal at Bellingham bay to reach Unalaska, whither a supply of Comox, B. C., coal has been sent for the use of the vessels when on patrol duty. The secretary of the Blue Canyon company wired from Seattle that he had secured the contract for coaling all the vessels, but President Larrabee, of the Fairhaven company, says he has no knowledge that the order received by his company has been revoked, and can conceive no reason why it should be, although he believes the price he quoted is somewhat higher than that quoted by the Blue Canyon. He has been requested to have 100 tons ready for the Yorktown Friday, and he still expects to furnish about 1,000 tons in all.

M. Hammerly, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I hurt my leg, the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg, from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

Is the centre for the Silver-Lead Mining Industry of the famous Slocan Region, which is now sending $75,000 worth of Ore to Kaslo per week for shipment to the American smelters.

The right of way for the Kaslo-Slocan Railway has been cleared, and the bridge foundations have been put in place, so that the work of grading and track-laying may proceed at the earliest possible moment after the snow disappears.

The Kaslo-Slocan Region has many mines which, even at the present low price of silver, bring a return of $100 to the ton. Mining men from all parts of the world say that it is the richest silver district known. The progress of development work in the mines verifies this statement.

Thousands of men will be employed in these mines. The natural base of supplies is Kaslo, which is admirably adapted for the purpose, being a beautiful townsite, situated on a bay possessing excellent shipping advantages.

The growth of Kaslo last year was very considerable. It is now an incorporated town, having a population of 2,000 people. That this population will be doubled before the end of the present year is unquestioned.

Kaslo offers to investors a most promising field. The opening up of the mines tributary to it must build up Kaslo. The development of these mines is now in progress. Many others will be worked as soon as easily accessible. An investment in a Kaslo lot and in improving the same will bring good results.

The Kaslo-Kootenay Land Co. control the original townsite. They are offering all property at reasonable prices and upon easy terms of payment. All inquiries for particulars will be promptly and fully answered.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"Independent" Testimony Cheering to Canadians—Dominion Duties Lower Than Wilson Tariff.

Tired of Liberalism—Ottawa Sound Storms—Premier Mowat on Cumulative Voting.

Toronto Telegram: Canada, Toronto included, does more complaining about hard times and has less reason to complain than any country on earth. Canadians even in these times of alleged tribulations are enjoying all the blessings of abundant prosperity, as the phrase, abundant prosperity, is understood in older countries. The condition of Canada now and the condition of European countries in the times of their greatest prosperity are in contrast, and the contrast is entirely to the advantage of Canada.

The standard of living here in the worst of times is higher than it is among the European peoples in the best of times. There are many happy and few hungry people in Canada even now.

"GLORIOUS CANADA."

Toronto Star: Great Britain has a deficit of $22,000,000, France $16,000,000 and the United States anywhere from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000. Truly Canada has reason to congratulate herself that while other countries have come through the general depression with the balance on the wrong side of the books, she has emerged with a surplus, while the distress has been much less heavy than in the other lands. Canada is a solid, safe Dominion, and her people are solid, safe, wise and just.

MOWAT ON CUMULATIVE VOTING.

Toronto Telegram: A deputation representing the Trades and Labor Council waited upon the Ontario Government last night and were received by Sir Oliver Mowat and Messrs. Hardy, Gibson, Dryden, and Bronson. President Walter Burhill of the Council was the first speaker and urged the adoption in Toronto of the cumulative system of voting in the coming elections. Statistics were also given to show that if Toronto was represented according to population it would be entitled to eight members instead of four. The Premier replied at some length, and said that while the arguments were forcible and certainly worthy of consideration, he did not think that there was at present any popular demand for the change which was advocated, nothing certainly to justify the Government in putting the proposed system into operation.

A COMPARISON OF DUTIES.

St. John Sun: It has been stated that the Canadian tariff in force before the recent reductions was lower than the proposed United States tariff under the Wilson bill. The Wilson bill as it now stands provides for dutiable goods of the various classes the following rate, the percentage in the case of specific duties is computed on last year's prices: Chemicals, oils and paints, 25 per cent.; earth, earthenware, glassware, 37; metals and manufactures of, 34; wood and manufactures of, 23; sugar, 35; tobacco, 91; agricultural products and provisions, 22; spirits, wines and other beverages, 59; cotton manufactures, 38; flax, hemp and manufactures of, 30; wool and manufactures of, 35; silk and silk goods, 44; pulp, papers and books, 20; sundries, 21; unenumerated, 19. The general average on all dutiable goods under the Senate bill is over 34 per cent. The average Canadian tariff on all dutiable goods coming into the country in 1892 was 29 per cent. Under the McKinley bill the average rate on dutiable goods going into the United States was 49½ per cent.

TIED OF LIBERALISM.

A Montreal despatch to the Toronto Empire says: A gentleman just arrived from Quebec is authority for the statement that ex-Mayor Fremont, M. P. for Quebec centre, will give the Government more than one important vote before the closing session. Mr. Fremont was always opposed to the Mercier-Pacaud-Langelier clique in Quebec, and reached the position of first magistrate of the Ancient Capital in spite of the efforts of the boodle brigade. He will, it is said, present himself next time in Quebec centre as a supporter of Sir John Thompson's Government.

OTTAWA STORMS.

Toronto Telegram: Resolutions and speeches lose the terrors of their parliamentary record when the unprejudiced onlooker watches their birth at Ottawa. Ottawa hears the volley-firing of the Quebec musketeers and apprehends that the bombardment of the citadel of English and Protestant rights has opened. The truth is that the French Canadian gentlemen are simply discussing in shouts subjects that their constituents will understand. Ottawa storms are fiercer in print than they are in reality. Disturbances that threaten to shake the Dominion have not energy enough to shake a window blind when viewed at short range by people who know the difference between a cyclone and a gale of wind.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION.

Judge Prowse, of St. Johns, Nfld., has contributed to the Evening Telegram of that city a series of articles on the importance of opening up the country by railways. He confesses at the outset to be a "railway man," and declares that as truly as the Canadian Pacific made Canada, so the Newfoundland and Northwestern railway has galvanised the north part of the island into life. The lumber industry has, he says, been created entirely by the passage of the railway, and the greatest improvement has been effected by the railway in the regular postal communication with the north.

MAJOR MUTTER'S POSITION.

TO THE EDITOR:—Under the heading, in one of your editorials in COLONIST of Tuesday, 24th April, of "A Little Game Spoiled" is the sentence, "He saw (Hon. Mr. Davie) what every one else who had the least discernment perceived, that Major Mutter, though professing to be a supporter of the Government, was really its bitter opponent." Now, Sir, will you be surprised to learn that Major Mutter is not an opponent, much less "a bitter" opponent of the Government of the Hon. Theodore Davie, and never was. I consider that I need say no more, as what really occurred, or was intended by Major Mutter's remarks at the meeting, is I presume only of interest to those concerned, and Major Mutter was requested to stand for the constituency by strong supporters of the Davie Government.

Oppose the Eight-Hour Bill.

LONDON, April 25.—A deputation of coal mine owners called upon Lord Rosebery yesterday to present reasons for opposing the eight-hour bill. The Premier said the ministry was not unanimous on the subject. Some would probably vote against the bill.

STOCKS IN NEW YORK.

Speculation Mainly Confined to the Industrial Group—American Sugar Active.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Speculation at the Stock Exchange was limited until the last half hour of business to the industrial group. These stocks, and more especially American Sugar, were in active request. Sugar was in demand from the opening until the close of business, and the price moved up steadily from 98½ to 100½, closing at par. The main cause for the improvement was the desire of a latent "short" interest to "cover." This demand was so urgent that the weakness of the general list, which was quite pronounced in the final transactions, failed to have any influence on Sugar, which left off about two points better for the day. Closing bids: Atchafon 137; Burlington & Quincy, 79; Canada Southern, 50; Canadian Pacific, 67; Central Pacific, 15; Chicago, Cincinnati & Columbus, 38; Delaware & Lackawanna, 163; Erie, 15; Wells Fargo, 123; Great Northern preferred, 104; Lake Shore, 128; Louisville & Nashville, 49; Missouri Pacific, 29; New York Central, 99; New York & New England, 9; North American, 4; Northern Pacific, 43; Northern Pacific preferred, 19; Northwest, 107.

COXEY'S ARMY.

The Capture of the Butte Contingent Which Stole a Railway Train.

Much Opposition to the Seizure, But no Real Difficulty Experienced.

St. PAUL, April 26.—Dispatches received here early this morning state that the Butte contingent of Coxey's army was captured at Forsythe, Mont., at 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday night. No blood was shed, the men submitting to arrest very quietly. The successful termination of the affair was due to a very clever manoeuvre on the part of Col. Page, who, on learning that the industrial train was delayed by lack of water, secured a special train and took them by surprise.

TACOMA, April 26.—A special to the Ledger from Allen C. Mason, who was at Billings Wednesday morning on the west-bound train, says: About one o'clock this morning the Coxey contingent from Butte, 600 strong, wearing tri-colored badges, rolled into Billings on sixteen freight cars, loaded on top and inside, and with flags flying, followed closely by a train containing United States marshals. The west-bound passenger train was laid out thirteen hours, fearing to run up against them, and for safety went on a sidetrack half a mile below town, the Coxey train apparently having its own way. At Columbia the railway officials had obstructed the track at night, but the Coxeyites removed the obstructions, pulled through and replaced them.

On arriving at Billings Leader Cunningham, from the top of a rear car, addressed a large crowd collected. About fifteen deputy marshals marched past under arms to capture the engine. The crowd surged forward and around the marshals, while the Coxeyites from their train gaped the marshals, warning them to commit no violence. The engineer, though under cover of rifles, refused to leave the cab, when ten or a dozen rifle shots rang out. The Coxeyites charged and wrested most of the guns from the marshals, who retreated under the protection of their revolvers, firing occasionally.

"Kill them," "hang them," shouted the Coxeyites, who saw one of their crown on top of the train, with blood streaming from a wound in the forehead. Several deputies ran, followed by the crowd hurling stones and hitting several of the deputies, who were driven back to the train, narrowly escaping a violent death. The Coxeyites smashed the captured rifles in pieces over the railroad rails. The action of the marshals in shooting on the miscellaneous crowd is severely condemned as foolhardy. One citizen was shot through the lungs, but will recover. One man was shot through the vest, over the heart, having a narrow escape.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 26.—The contingent of Coxey's army under command of "Gen." Louis C. Frye, spent last night near here, using the railroad company's fences and ties for fuel. One train was side-tracked to prevent the Commonwealths securing it. When the trains were started in the afternoon the 300 soldiers made a rush for a freight and captured it. The engineer was told that the industrial had railroad men in their ranks and that if he refused to start this train, he would be put off and one of their men would take the throttle. The trainmen were unable to prevent them riding as the industrial were determined and any resistance would have resulted in bloodshed. Brazil being in the heart of the Indiana coal district, and as hundreds of miners are now out on strike, there may be serious trouble, as the miners will, on account of being residents, claim the charity of the people of the city in preference to the industrial.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—A new impediment to the Coxey demonstration in Washington on May 1 has appeared in the person of Dr. Hammett, the health officer of the district of Columbia. He will meet the commonwealth army at the district line, and if he finds any sickness among them that is likely to breed infectious or contagious disease he will place the entire force in quarantine.

FORSYTHE, Mont., April 26, 2 a.m.—The strong arm of the law seized the Montana army of the commonwealth. The army 600 strong came in from the west at 10:45 and its leaders stated that they would remain at Forsythe until morning. At 11:30, however, an engineer went to the round house and deliberately proceeded to take out a fresh engine to prepare for the trip eastward. In the meantime Col. Page, of Fort Keogh, secured a special train and was thundering down the road to meet the train-stealing contingent. He came into Forsythe shortly after midnight and found the large party of the Coxey army asleep in box cars. The surprise was complete and the Coxeyites gave up without a struggle. Troops left most of the men aboard the train and surrounded it. Nothing definite is known as to the disposition of the commonwealthers, but it is supposed that eight or ten of the leaders will be taken back to Morrow to Butte and the others set at liberty.

Small Lot Household Furniture, Stove and Pipes, Crockery, etc., etc.

This Property is within easy distance of many of the most important Gold, Silver and Coal Mines in West Kootenay. The population of this district will increase this year by at least 10,000; the area of farm land is very limited, and from this it may be fairly asserted that beef and all classes of farm produce will find a ready and lucrative market. The soil is the best bottom land, and the locality is one of the few places in the Province where so large a piece of good farm land can be found in one block. A river runs through the property, and rainbow trout are plentiful and afford capital sport. Deer abound in considerable numbers. Bear, Wolf, Coyote and other large game are to be found in the hills. There are two creeks recorded and belonging to the estate, one flows all the year round. Limestone and brick clay are to be had in the valley.

The Cattle are well bred; a much larger herd could be farmed with the place. The bunch grass on the hills in the vicinity covers many thousands of acres, and is available to the few land owners in the valleys. All buildings and fences about the farm are a good order, and farming operations can be gone on with at once; about 180 acres of ploughing have been, so far, provided for this year's work.

The Climate is not severe, the land being about 1,100 feet above sea level; the station was for many years the winter quarters of the H. B. Co.'s pack trains. There is a weekly express in and out. Goods and supplies at wholesale can be procured on order and delivered in 48 hours.

The Title is by grant from the Crown, and is free of all encumbrances. Immediate possession can be given.

Important Railway works are now in progress within moderate distance, and two railway lines have been run to pass close to or through the estate, which can be reached in the spring in three days' journey from Victoria.

The South West Kootenay District, British Columbia, judging from the actual ore products of the mines this winter, is destined in the next year or two to become one of the richest and most important mineral centres in the world. Statistics show, that although the district is in its primary stage, the mines have developed ore veins rich enough to warrant the investment of over million dollars. When these mines come to be worked systematically, there will be an Influx of Population, which will require beef and farm produce in large quantities. The limited quantity of really good farm land in the district to supply these requirements makes this

THE SEALERS WARNED.

A British ship-of-war has been sent to the Northern Pacific to warn British sealers that the close season has commenced, and to inform them of the provisions of the law passed by the Imperial Parliament to give effect to the award of the Arbitrators. It is not to be supposed that this warning is to be a sham, and that if unwarned vessels are met with after the 1st of May, they will be seized instead of being warned. We will wait to see this act of gross injustice done before we believe that it is contemplated.

We cannot see what good can result from representing matters with respect to the mode of dealing with British sealers in the worst possible light. We were told on Wednesday by the Times that "no man-of-war is to be sent North to convey warning to the sealers that the Paris regulations will be enforced on May 1." A very few hours after this appeared word came from Ottawa that the naval officer at Esquimaux had received orders "to send a man-of-war to the Northern Pacific immediately to notify Canadian sealing vessels"; and not twenty-four hours after the statement that no man-of-war was to be sent to the Northern Pacific was made the Pheasant was on her way to those waters. As our contemporary was mistaken in the announcement which it so confidently made on Wednesday, it is not possible that it may be quite as far in error with respect to the way in which sealers that it will be found impossible to warn before that date will be treated? No one knows what orders the officer commanding the Pheasant has received. It is one thing to say that sealers found within the specified limits are liable to seizure after the 1st of May, and we are quite sure that the British Government does not expect either the Commander of the man-of-war or the unwarned sealers to do what is impossible. The very fact that the Pheasant was sent to sea so near the end of the open season is presumptive evidence of the strongest kind that it is not intended, with respect to vessels that have not been warned and that cannot be warned, to put a rigid interpretation on the new law.

MOROSE AND VITUPERATIVE.

The News-Advertiser is so elated over the success which it has predicted that it attacks with the greatest bitterness its political opponents. The Premier is denounced in the most arimous terms, and it, without any unusual provocation, falls foul of the Government press. This is a singular course to pursue on the eve of a glorious victory. The sure prospect of success puts most men in a good humor, and causes them to feel kindly to all the world. They are disposed to be generous in their day of triumph and to speak mildly of even their most energetic opponents. But this is not the case with our Vancouver morning contemporary. It seems to have become soured by the prospect of prosperity, and the near approach of victory has added to its malignity. The News-Advertiser has, we must confess, disappointed us. We thought that it would be mellowed by success and not spoiled, and that in its day of triumph it would be magnanimous and merciful and not ungenerous and vindictive. We regret that we have been mistaken. It is not pleasant to see men fall below the estimate one has formed of them.

We cannot say that we have been hurt by the News-Advertiser's denunciation of the part of the press that supports the Government. We feel sure that our contemporary did not mean what it said. Its denunciation of its conferees, like its boast of what the Opposition are going to do on election day, was written simply for effect. It is more sound and fury signifying nothing, and we take it for what it is worth. But our contemporary the World does not feel inclined to pass over the News-Advertiser's abuse of the press with quiet, good-natured contempt. It is indignant, and strikes back. It speaks of the News-Advertiser and its editor and proprietor in language which cannot be overlooked. If what the World says and suggests is true, the editor of the News-Advertiser is guilty of a piece of insolent presumption when he places himself on a moral level with honest men of any profession; if what it says is untrue, we cannot see how the editor of the News-Advertiser can, in justice to himself, avoid calling the publishers of the World to account before a court of justice. No journalist can be justified in saying what the World says about Mr. Cotton, unless he has the proof of the truth of what he states under his hand, and no man occupying a respectable position can afford to have such things said about him as the World publishes about the editor of the News-Advertiser, without taking steps to prove to the world that they are false and libellous.

ABOUT CONCILIATION.

Labor legislation appears to be exceedingly difficult in Great Britain as well as everywhere else. The general opinion seems to be that labor disputes must be settled amicably if they are settled at all. The introduction of the element of compulsion is resented by both parties to the dispute; and naturally so. Free men cannot be compelled to work for less than they consider fair wages or on any other than they regard as reasonable conditions. Neither is it possible to compel employers to pay more as wages than they believe to be just, or to open their factories and workshops, when, in their opinion, their interest requires them to be closed. Those who think over the subject calmly, will find that in any measure that may be framed for the settlement of labor disputes, there is no place for the element of compulsion. This is the conclusion to which the British Labor Commission has arrived, and it will have to be admitted that the men composing that Commission were well able to arrive at just and reasonable conclusions in the matter, and that they had an immense amount of information before them on which to found an intelligent opinion.

A bill for the creation of Boards of Conciliation for labor disputes has been introduced in the British House of Commons. It appears to be based on the findings of the Labor Commission. This bill provides that the Board of Trade may invite the parties to the dispute to choose a Chairman to preside over a meeting in which the matters of difference are considered. This was what was done in the case of the coal strike last year. The mine-owners and the miners chose Lord Rosebery as a chairman or conciliator. Representatives of both miners and mine-owners met under his presidency, and in an astonishingly short time the difficulty which had caused so much trouble and loss was settled. The bill provides that a conciliator or a board of conciliation may be appointed, and provision is made for appointing an arbitrator by the Board of Trade. Neither party is under the slightest compulsion. "The author of the measure, Mr. Mundella, describes it as a bill to call boards of conciliation into existence and to assist their organization by enforcing such rules and methods as had proved successful in the past, and to record and publish from time to time useful decisions." It seems to us that the law that was enacted by the Legislature of this Province last winter resembles in many essential respects Mr. Mundella's bill. There does not seem to be a very clear understanding either in Great Britain or the Colonies as to what really constitutes "conciliation." Lord Shand, who was nominated by the Speaker of the House of Commons as Chairman of the Miners' Board of Conciliation, at its fourth meeting found it necessary to explain what, in his opinion, "conciliation" really means. He prefaced his observations by saying that he regarded the formation of the board as a very great experiment, and that it would be humiliating if the members should not succeed in accomplishing their purpose.

I have sometimes wondered, he said, whether persons who belong to boards of this class really realize the meaning and force of this word "conciliation." I have seen, since I was appointed to this board, in the public prints statements made by the members of the board, I think publicly, that they will go so far in the way of concession and not one inch farther; and in glancing over the proceedings which the joint secretaries were good enough to send me, I have seen indications also on the part of the masters that they will go so far in the way of concession and no farther. I ask you, if that is to be the state of matters, why are you here? Conciliation in my mind means concession. Of one thing I trust I may feel assured, and that is that all the questions which are raised where matters of fact are concerned, the fullest information will be frankly and cordially given upon both sides, and that you will endeavor to show, in as far as you possibly can, confidence in each other and in the statements that each makes to the other. I do not say for a moment that if on either side you have the least idea that deceit is being practiced, or concealment is being used, you should not resent that and require that there should be an end to that, but I hope there will be neither concealment nor deceit, but that you will be able to show the utmost confidence and trust in the statements which one gives to the other.

It is evident that Lord Shand is endowed with a good share of sound, practical, common sense. If men who do not agree on a certain matter meet with a disposition to give and take as far as is reasonable, and if they have perfect confidence that neither wishes or intends to take an unfair advantage of the other, the chances are, in fact the certainty is, that if an amicable agreement is within the bounds of possibility, they will, before very long, arrive at such an agreement. Men who feel well towards each other and who believe in each other do not require a compulsory law to settle any differences that may arise between them. Without this confidence and this good understanding it is nearly, if not quite, impossible to arrive at a friendly settlement, no matter what may be the nature of the law.

WHEAT IN ARGENTINA.

One of the great wheat-producing countries of the world is Argentina. The export of wheat from that country in 1890 was 300,000 tons; in 1893 it had increased to 1,000,000 tons; and this year it is expected that 2,000,000 tons will be shipped from its ports. As it takes a little over thirty-seven bushels of wheat to make a ton, Argentina will send to the markets of the world this year, somewhere about 74,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Argentina is a comparatively new country and its resources are but partially developed. There is a great deal of good land in it yet in a wilderness state and a great deal more which can be made productive by irrigation. It is proposed to construct great irrigation works in those parts of the country where the fall of rain is uncertain, which will wonderfully increase its productive capacity. The soil of the country is naturally rich, and it is watered by great rivers. Its government by bad management and blundering and dishonest financing, did their best to ruin the Argentine Republic, but although they did their utmost to make the country bankrupt they were only able to do it temporary injury. The depression there has been deep and it has continued long, but the prospects are now becoming brighter, and it is hoped that it will soon be more prosperous than ever it was.

PROCESSION of DEATH

(BY SPANGENBERG)

Is one of the Greatest Pictures in the National Gallery at Berlin. It is an intensely realistic representation of "Death" in the form of a draped skeleton, holding in his extended bony hand a bell, with which he summons his victims. Following him are kings, bishops, beggars, the newly married bride, tottering age and hisping childhood. The soldier bids farewell to his weeping wife; and the helpless beggar, weary of her life and of her pains and poverty, extends her hands in supplication and would fain join the procession.

Masterpieces from the Art Galleries of the World

So many of the world's famous paintings were never before issued in one part. They are not gathered in a hurry to sell, but are the result of nearly six years of labor and travel in America and Europe and the cost of thousands. Most of them were never before copied until the editor secured special permission to do so. The series is the pick of over 10,000 original photographs.

HOW TO GET IT
 Cut out the Coupons, and bring 3 different ones with ten cents for each part. Each week a new part will be issued. It is therefore necessary to cut out your Coupons and bring them regularly, so as not to miss any of the numbers.

WHY WE DO IT.

Circulation to a newspaper is LIFE, and publishers are always ready to spend money liberally to increase it. This work could be done by an expensive canvass, but we think that "MASTERPIECES" will do as good work in that direction at no more expense, and at the same time give our present subscribers the benefit of the deal. That is very much fairer than spending all the money on the new men.

Therefore, we ask you to show your copy of "MASTERPIECES" to your friends and neighbors, tell them how it may be obtained, give them some of your spare Coupons, and start them on the right path.

OUR NEIGHBORS' NEWS.

A New System for Aldermanic Elections—Customs Officers and Police for Alaska.

Toronto's Mayor to Be Boycotted—Colony for Casual Poor—Niagara Park.

St. John, N. B., had on April 17 elections of mayor and aldermen on the principle then first put in operation in that city of the electors in all the wards voting for the full number of aldermen as well as for the mayor. The aldermanic candidates, however, were nominated as representatives of single wards, with the exception of two styled "aldermen at large," but the constituency of these two, so far as the voting was concerned, was precisely the same as all the rest. The new system of voting interfered to a very slight extent with the election of the men most popular in the wards they were anxious to represent, for only two out of the thirteen wards will be nominally represented by men who polled a minority of the votes there, while securing majorities in the city as a whole. The Sidney ward representative polled 2,313 in the city, against 1,182 for his opponent, while in the ward the unsuccessful candidate with 94 votes was 8 ahead of the man elected. The voting for the Daif-rin ward representative, stood 1,950 to 1,555 in the city, and 71 to 204 in the ward, whose nominal representative thus polled only one-third of the votes cast there. There were only two candidates nominated for each ward, and for the two positions of "aldermen at large" there were five candidates. The Telegraph says:

The civic elections which were held yesterday differed in many important respects from any that had previously taken place in this city. The old system by which elections were held of representatives of wards by the voters of each ward had been entirely done away with, and every voter had a right to say not only who should represent his own ward but who should represent all the other wards in the city. The plan put forward by the Tax Reduction Association, and adopted by a vote of the citizens, reduced the number of aldermen from 26 to 15—one to represent each of the 13 wards of the city, and two who are designated aldermen at large. The Common Council will, therefore, hereafter, be a much smaller body than it has been at any period since the city was founded, and the work devolving on the aldermen as well as their responsibility will be increased.

ALASKAN AFFAIRS.
An Ottawa despatch to the Toronto Empire says, C. H. Hamilton, of Fort Cudahy, Alaska, secretary and assisting manager of the North American Transportation and Trading Company, was in the city to-day in the interests of this organization. The company practically controls all the trade of Alaska, and has steamers plying on the Yukon river from its mouth for 1,900 miles into the interior of the country. Three hundred miles of the river are supposed to be in Canadian territory. Mr. Hamilton has just arrived from Washington, where he interviewed the authorities there, and urged that steps be taken towards placing customs officials in the interior of Alaska, and has secured a promise that this will be done. He is desirous of securing the placing of customs and inland revenue officers in Canadian territory by the Dominion Government, and also that a detachment of mounted police be sent there to enforce order. He left for Chicago to-night, where he will have an interview with Gen. Schofield, of the United States army, in reference to the internal affairs of Alaska, preparatory, it is thought, to the United States placing troops in the country. The question which Mr. Hamilton has brought before the Dominion Government is not a new one. From time to time the British Columbia members have represented to the Ministry the advisability of taking steps towards enforcing law on that section of the Yukon which runs through Canadian soil. Dr. Bompas, bishop of Selkirk, whose headquarters are on the Upper Yukon river, recently wrote a letter to Hon. Mr. Daly, in which he strongly urged that steps be taken towards preventing traders from carrying liquor into the country, as it is working great havoc amongst the Indians and rendering fruitless the labors of the missionaries. Dr. Bompas says that unless some steps be taken with this end in view he is afraid that he will have to withdraw from that district.

VISITORS TO NIAGARA.

Toronto Telegram: Supt. Wilson, of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park, reports that 543,924 people visited the park in 1893, which is an increase of more than double the number of visitors in the previous year. The receipts at the park from visitors and rental of privileges for the year amounted to $18,965. The expenditure for maintenance for the park amounted to $16,116. The Niagara Falls Park and River railway company pays an annual rental of $10,000, and the elevator, refreshment booth, photographic and other privileges that produce the income are held on a lease for ten years at $8,200 a year. Over 150,000 visitors came to the park over the electric railway, and out of the fares collected therefrom the company paid the rental. The commissioners express the belief that all charges for interest on capital account and maintenance may soon be met from the revenues of the park.

TORONTO'S CASUAL POOR.

Toronto Star: The House of Industry, at its meeting yesterday, appointed a committee to make enquiries into the question of establishing a labor colony for the casual poor in connection with the House of Industry, and to report at a meeting of the board on September 1. Principal MacMurphy was the mover and Canon Cayley the seconder of the motion. Mr. MacMurphy explained that his idea was to establish a large labor colony for the purpose of giving employment to tramps. They are to remain in the colony until they are fitted to become citizens.

BALLOONING FOR LOST SOUNDS.

Thomas S. Baldwin, the aeronaut and gymnast, connected with the Ballooning Department of the Signal Service and War Department, has been ordered to Boston, where he will conduct a series of interesting and important experiments in aeronautics. Vessels approaching Boston can be heard through their fog horns fifteen miles out at sea, but when within three miles of shore the sound of the fog-horn whistle is absolutely lost. The question is, Where does the sound go? It is proposed to investigate the upper atmosphere at a distance of 3,000 feet in the hope of ascertaining whether the sounds from the whistles and fog-horns do not go upward, as Mr. Baldwin believes such sounds do. A monster balloon will be anchored to a Government vessel, and will be allowed to ascend to any required distance by means of a wire cable worked by steam. The vessel will cruise about off Boston and neighboring points to a distance of ten to fifteen miles, and sounds will be made from whistles and fog-horns. When within three or four miles of shore it is believed that the aeronaut in the balloon can ascertain whether the sound in getting lost ascends. In the coil of wire that is attached to the balloon is a telephone wire, by means of which Baldwin will communicate with officials on board the ship. Major Livermore, of the Government service, with his staff, will assist the aeronaut in this work, which will possibly last some months, and perhaps a year.

FLYING MACHINE IN COURT.

Toronto Telegram: Perhaps no more interesting exhibit was ever filed in a Toronto court than that carried in and spread out over Clerk Howard's box. It was a model of H. G. T. Glazebrook's flying machine, looking very much like a miniature monitor. It consists of a steamer-like body, with two paddle wheels, an expansive rudder and an immense double bag over it to be inflated with air and gas. The machinery is simple in arrangement and construction, the wheels working independently and made to revolve by a spring wound up like a clock. This spring is used only in the model; an engine will take its place when the thing goes through the air. It was brought in for His Honor's inspection in a suit brought against Glazebrook by Thomas Shea, who had a claim of $68.50 against the inventor for work done on this model and material supplied, besides time occupied "in thinking it out." Glazebrook said that the work was not done well, for the thing wouldn't work after it came from Shea's hands. The machine stood on the desk, without flying away, for two long hours, while the case was being tried. Then the judge allowed Shea $20 on his claim.

BOYCOTTING A MAYOR.

Toronto Star: At the meeting of the hotelkeepers several weeks ago, it was suggested that a boycott be declared against the firm of Sampson, Kennedy & Co., on account of Mayor Kennedy's refusal to extend a welcome to the delegates. The suggestion did not take the form of a resolution, but it seems that a general boycott has been established by the 47 associations in the Province. In every town where there is an association the hotelkeepers have gone to the retail merchants and informed them that if they bought their goods from Sampson, Kennedy & Co., they would withdraw their trade. Further than this the travellers of the firm have been refused hotel accommodation in a great many towns upon the plea that every room in the house had been taken, when investigation proved that such was not the case.

STOCKING ALASKA WITH DEER.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Dr. Sheldon Jackson, general agent of education in Alaska, passed through St. Paul Wednesday en route to join the revenue cutter Bear at Puget Sound. Dr. Jackson is under instructions from Washington to proceed on the Bear to Northeast Siberia for the purchase of additional reindeer to be added to the herd of 345 already established by him in Alaska. This is the beginning of an industry that is hoped will reclaim and make of commercial value the great frozen waters of Arctic Alaska, as well as provide a permanent industry for the Eskimo population of that region.

DYSPEPSIA CURED BY B.B.B.

MR. GEO. READ.

Read the Proof.

DEAR SIRS.—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for B. B. B. entirely cured me. I have also used it for my wife and family and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B. B. B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B. B. B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

Yours faithfully,
GEORGE READ,

"HYDE FARM"

SHAWNIGAN DISTRICT

IS A MAGNIFICENT PROPERTY, containing 484 acres, suitable for mixed farming. A large portion of the Farm has formerly been cropped. There are large portions of it that are suitable for Grazing and Dairying Purposes. Now that Hops are likely to become one of B. C.'s profitable crops, a couple of hundred acres of Hyde Farm could be utilized for this purpose. The Farm is supplied with an abundance of water the year round, and water for power can be secured from the falls of the Koksilah River, which stream is the boundary line of the property on one side. Brick Clay, Lime Rock and Bog Iron Ore exist on the Farm, with the prospect of Coal also being discovered. There is plenty of Timber for all purposes, some of it of a merchantable character.

"HYDE FARM"

Is a short distance from the E. & N. Railway Line at either end of the property, and the Victoria and Nanaimo Wagon Road passes through it, therefore it is specially well located for shipping purposes. Excellent Shooting and Fishing is to be had on the property and in the Koksilah River. Deer, Grouse, Duck and Geese abound. In fact Hyde Farm is well located for all practical and pleasureable purposes, and is a chance not often met with for a man of moderate means to secure a small estate, which is sure to become extremely valuable, as the development of the Island progresses. In the meantime its utilization for Mixed Farming or Cattle Raising Purposes would bring in a fair income.

NORTHEAST ARM UPPER ARROW LAKE.

The Townsite Company have entered into a contract to build a wharf to deep water at lowest stage, at the foot of Victoria avenue. This will cost about $4000.

The C.P.R. Telegraph Company's line is built from Revelstoke to Nelson, Nakusp and Kaslo via LARDEAU CITY, and the office for the Lardeau and Fish Creek Districts is situated at LARDEAU CITY.

A Mining Recorder is stationed at LARDEAU—a convenience for the prospectors of this region. Many rich strikes have recently been made on Fish Creek, a few miles from LARDEAU. A steamer calls three times a week at LARDEAU.

The charter for the Lardeau & Kootenay Railroad has its commencement at LARDEAU CITY. This line will undoubtedly be built in the near future, as it is the only route to the famous Lardeau Mines on Trout Lake and the shortest and easiest pass to Kootenay Lake.

Prospectors and capitalists visiting the Lardeau Country will find the best Hotel Accommodation in West Kootenay at LARDEAU CITY. It is the entrance point to the Lardeau, Fish Creek and Duncan River Mines, and will save time, labor and money to prospectors who desire to visit these sections.

LARDEAU CITY has much in its favor. It is affected by the prevailing dullness at present, but its situation is such that it must become an important trading point, and grow into a considerable town.

Investors in West Kootenay should seek particulars about LARDEAU and the District tributary to it. Any information will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Odd Fellows of the Continent Celebrate the Foundation of Their Society.

Imposing Demonstrations at San Francisco—History and Statistics of the Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26—This is the great day of the Odd Fellows' jubilee, which the order has been celebrating in this city since Monday last. The grand parade in regalia took place this morning, and the exercises of the day were held at the exposition grounds this afternoon, followed by a grand prize drill of the Patriarchs Militant for a silver trophy. The skies were overcast during the early hours of the morning, and shortly after the procession started for the exposition grounds a light rain commenced to fall.
 The column was in five divisions, under command of George H. Black, with J. W.
 Harris as chief, and despite the unpleasant
 weather made an imposing demonstration.
 It moved out of Golden Gate avenue to the park, where it was joined by the Rebekah Degree lodges, commanded by Mrs. Carrie Warner, and the two bodies marched into the exposition grounds together.

The attendance at the fair grounds was good but not so good as it would have been had it been a pleasant day. The procession passed around the grand court at the fair grounds to Festival Hall, where the exercises were held. The capacity of the hall was taxed to accommodate the Odd Fellows and other visitors. The exercises opened with an address of welcome by Director de Young. This was responded to by Grand Patriarch L. W. S. Downs, who said complimentary things of the Fair and its management, and expressed the appreciation of the members of his order at the reception extended to them. The Grand Patriarch was followed by Governor Markham and Grand Master J. E. Thompson, and there was music by Cassaia's band.

After the exercises there was a prize drill
 by the Patriarchs Militant, followed by a dress parade.

To-day all over the continent was specially observed, for the million members of the order in North America are celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the society by that notable Englishman,
 Thomas Wilkey, the first lodge in Baltimore 75 years ago. The growth of this society in America is startling. It is probable that the growth of the order in the United States far exceeds the most sanguine hopes of Thomas Wilkey, although it is said that his enthusiasm was contagious,
 and that he was a born organizer.

He certainly must have been or else some very fortunate circumstances have attended the growth of the order of which he was the founder in America, for there are more persons joining it to-day
 than ever before in its history. Massachusetts alone has nearly 50,000 members, 5,000 of whom joined during the past year,
 and many other States in the Union had fully as many to their credit last year. The new State of Washington has already nearly a membership of 15,000. The order appears to have its greatest growth in the North and West, and the men who join it cannot be called the wealthy class; they represent, rather, the bone and sinew of the country, the great middle class of business men, mechanics and artisans.

The real estate held by this organization probably exceeds $20,000,000 in value and there is scarcely a town in the country which has not its Odd Fellows' building. In many of the cities these are immense structures and show keen business instincts in their location and construction, for they usually represent a paying investment, with the exception of the homes and hospitals, which are maintained for unfortunate members and their wives and families at the expense of State jurisdictions. The total revenue of the order for the past year was $8,609,130-93 and the total relief extended was $3,350-456.84.

American Odd Fellowship, or what is known as the I. O. O. F., sprang from what is now known as the Manchester Unity, the English Order of Odd Fellows. When the order was originally started in England it was more in the interests of a "jolly good time" with jolly good fellows, who swapped stories on a Saturday night. Undoubtedly the lodges were a necessity of the period.
 During the latter part of the last century,
 however, in England many of those who had been initiated into the then languishing Odd Fellows' lodges perceived in them the germs of a nobler institution, but it was not until 1813 that their ideas took definite shape. In that year a convention was held at Manchester, England, and several lodges formally seceded and formed the "Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Manchester Unity, Friendly Society." The men at the head of the new order were earnest, active and intelligent, and by dint of hard work and wise legislation they laid the foundation of what is now a flourishing society, to which a number of lodges in this country at the present day owe their allegiance.

The entire body of American Odd Fellows were allied more or less closely to this organization until 1843, when nearly all the lodges severed their connection with it and called themselves the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Thomas Wilkey has been called the "founder and father" of American Odd Fellowship, and his history is really the history of the rise of the order in America.
 Through his efforts the first lodge of Odd Fellows was instituted April 26, 1819, at the Seven Stars tavern, and was called Washington lodge No. 1. Soon after this Wilkey met the man who shaped his cruden-ness, directed his energy and developed his qualities of leadership—the man to whom the order of Odd Fellows owes fully as much if not more than it does to Thomas Wilkey. That man was James L. Ridgely, the counterpart and complement of Wilkey.

Ridgely was a native American, who was born and bred in cultivated circles. He was educated and refined, and in all respects, apparently, the opposite of Wilkey.
 At an early age he was a member of the civic council of Baltimore, a member of the house of delegates, registrar of wills, president of the board of education, and practically the founder of the present school system of Baltimore. He was a lawyer of standing and was appointed collector of revenue under Lincoln, which position he retained under Johnson.

The Grand Lodge was called the "Grand Lodge of Maryland and the U. S. Independent Order of Odd Fellows," and worked under that title until 1825, when it was changed to the "Grand Lodge of the United States." In 1878 the name was changed to "The Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F." and in 1879 the present title of "The Sovereign Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F." was adopted.
 This lodge grants charters to State

grand lodges and they in turn institute subordinate lodges. The Massachusetts grand lodge was organized June 11, 1823. The New York grand lodge was instituted during the same month and Pennsylvania lodge was also started the same month, all by Thomas Wilkey. There were a few subordinate lodges chartered by these grand lodges during the next two years, but in February, 1825, they were but nine lodges, with less than 500 members, in the United States. In 1830 the number of subordinate lodges had increased from nine to fifty-eight. In 1869 the annual session of the order was held in San Francisco, and the representatives, from nearly every Eastern State, were the first to ride
 as an organized body across the continent by rail. On April 2 of the same year the semi-centennial of Odd Fellowship was celebrated in the city of Philadelphia with appropriate ceremonies at the Academy of Music, and by a most imposing procession of the brotherhood, numbering not less than 30,000 members and forming a continuous line not less than ten miles in length.

The encampment, or militant, branch has become an important factor in the order. Prior to 1827 it was unknown, but on May 15 of that year a charter was granted to "Encampment lodge No. 1," in Maryland. This was soon after known as the "Encampment of Patriarchs." In 1870 it was voted by the sovereign grand lodge that the members of the encampments should wear a distinct uniform in all street parades, and in 1880 the uniformed degree was instituted. In 1885 the name "patriarchs militant" was substituted for the "uniformed degree," and its members were called "chevaliers." In 1888 the patri-archs militant established an army headquarters at Chicago with a lieutenant general at its head. This headquarters was abolished at the last session of the sovereign grand lodge as an expensive luxury, and the power is now vested in the grand sire of the sovereign grand lodge as supreme commander, and each state jurisdiction regulates its own affairs.

The "canton" is the unit of organization of this military degree. To be eligible a brother must be a patriarch of the royal purple degree. There are now about 3,000 encampments, with nearly 150,000 members and 500 cantons with about 75,000 members for chevaliers.

In 1851 the degree of Rebekah was instituted and the wives of Odd Fellows who were in good standing and had attained the scarlet, or third degree, were eligible. On September 25, 1868, it was voted at the annual session to authorize and empower the grand lodges
 to institute degree lodges to the Daughters of Rebekah within their territorial limit;
 and that they might confer the degree of Rebekah on scarlet members and their wives and also upon widows of Odd Fellows, whether or not scarlet degree members. All degree lodges were to consist of at least 10 members, five of each sex. This has since been altered and five members are all that is now necessary. Five years later, 1873, it was voted to admit daughters (over 18 years of age) of scarlet degree members in good standing, and also the daughters of members who died in good standing. In 1880 unmarried sisters of Odd Fellows of the degree of the Truth, if they were 18 years of age and white women, were made eligible. There are now over 2,000 lodges of the degree of Rebekah, with a membership of nearly 100, 000, all laboring faithfully for the success of this important auxiliary of the order.

THE James Bay and V.A.C. baseball teams will meet, for the first time in more than a year, on Beacon Hill, to-morrow afternoon. It will also be the first match of the season, and there will no doubt be much interest manifested in it by baseball enthusiasts. The teams will play a match on each Saturday following for three successive weeks, and the team winning the greatest number of games in the series is to compete against the Seattle team here during the 24th of May celebration.

In accordance with the provisions of the "Labor conciliation and arbitration act" of the recent session, the government have by order in council prescribed very complete regulations for the procedure in the settlement of disputes. These have been published in the official gazette, in which they take up five pages, three being occupied by the schedule containing the drafts of the many official forms to be used in connection with the appointment of arbitrators and the acceptance of their awards. A scale of fees is also provided for.

POSTMASTER NOAH SHAKESPEARE occupied the chair at the concert given in the school room of the Centennial Methodist church last evening. The programme was almost solely by the choir of the church, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Rowlands, the various numbers being as follows:
 Glee, choir; song, "Death of Nelson," Mr.
 Clement Rowlands; song, "Daddy and Jean," Mrs. Rowlands; quartette, "There was an Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," Mr.
 and Mrs. Rowlands, Miss Hamber and Mr.
 Sheddau; song, "The Ash Grove," Miss Hamber; chorus, choir; glee, choir; song,
 "The Flight of Ages," Mr. Sheddau; song,
 "On the Banks of Allan Water," Mrs. Rowlands; quartette, Miss Anderson, Miss Ham-ber and Messrs. Rowlands and Sheddau; duet, "Lark and Watch," Messrs. Sheddau and Rowlands; and chorus, choir. The concert, considering the disagreeable evening was well attended.

A FINAL REPLY.

For the public information, I would state in regard to Mr. G. G. Bigger's assertion in his letter to me in the Daily Times of Wednesday last, that I had "never heard of a public meeting being called by the representatives of 'Assessment institutions' before in my life," that in the winter of 1891
 I was present at such a meeting, held in the Bolton Town Hall, Lancashire, England.
 The meeting was promoted and freely advertised in the public press beforehand by the representatives of The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York (one of the largest "Assessment institutions" in the world). The tone of Mr. G. G. Bigger's letter is such that I must decline to take any further notice of him.
